Amulya Shoda :-

Introduction :-

Amulya Shoda is a museum, which is located near "Lakkina Koppa" in Shimoga. It was built by a retired history lecturer, Khandobarro, in the memory of his beloved wife Yashoda. In this museum there are many old coins of different countries, inscriptions mainly famous Kannada inscriptions like "Veeragalli" and "Mahasathi Gollu", manuscripts, all stand as a proof for the many events in history.

In Shimoga retired lecturer Khandobarro better known as "Shah Jahan of Shimoga". He built his own Tajmahal named as "Amulya Shoda" with love for his beloved wife and with the theme of giving contribution for new generation and for the country as a proud citizen.

Sir Khandobarro's point of view :-

According to Sir Khandobarro's point of view students should contribute for the country and students should be a good citizen of India. He wants to create awareness among youth about the significance of our heritage, culture of previous eras. And this museum also spreads the fragrance.

of his deep love for his wife Yashoda.

Construction:-

Amulya Shoda museum was established in 2008, after his wife's death. Amulya Shoda is divided into three parts they are, Nanya darshini, malenadu darshini and bharaatha darshini.

This museum can give us not only knowledge but also peace and happiness. There are homes for the people who work in the museum. The homes are in malenadu village style. The museum has mess facility. There food quality is really good. It tastes like home made food. And their cleanliness is really good.

Themes:-

Every student should visit this museum. It is really a good place to gain knowledge and learn something beyond the books. Every student has to meet person like Sir Khandobarrao, to be a good citizen. Not only for knowledge also for be a good person.

Sir Khandobarrao is an inspiring person. He wanted to guide youths, he wanted to contribute something for the country. Through these features he inspired us.

Conclusion:-

As a youth I am really inspired by his level of consistency and his hard work.

He is well disciplined one. Until the end I am in shock, that, what is the instrument of his consistency and his hard work!

Then at the he told his life story.

he told that, how he suffered for food.

Then I got my answer that, "Hunger".

In life "Hunger" is the only one thing, has power to make anything. He said "simple living and high thinking". In my point of view I noticed that he is quite unhappy because some bad developments in society. He had some worries about youths And he is quite dissatisfied about some developments in society.

That is why, he wanted to guide youth in a write path. Like there amulya khada museum is really a place which is worth watching, having a bunch of knowledge. Every student should have "hunger" hunger of receiving knowledge. "I envy him".
